Vn. Mother Mary Lange OSP (1784-1882)

"Our sole wish is to do the will of God." These are the words spoken by Mother Lange of the Oblate Sisters. And how did the venerable mother seek to accomplish the will of God? By education of the neglected.

Born Elizabeth Clarisse Lange, she used her own home and money to offer free education to children of color in Baltimore.

Yet, despite her great charity, she still avoided the full call of God as she waited over a decade to commit herself to the religious life. On July 2, 1829, her and three other women dedicated themselves to God and began the Oblate Sisters of Providence.

"What were the works of Mother Mary Lange?" a sister wrote. "There was also an orphanage, a widow's home, spiritual direction, religious education classes and vocational training. The early Sisters did home visiting and conducted night schools so black adults could learn to read and write. When the Civil War was over, Baltimore was flooded with black war orphans. Mother Mary gathered 60 of them and began a new era of caring for destitute children. She was a religious pioneer."

In 1991, she was declared a Servant of God. In 2023, she was declared Venerable.
