Servus Dei Sr Thea Bowman (1937-1990)

Some of us were born to Catholic parents. Others entered the Church as adults. And then, there is Thea Bowman. Raised protestant, Bowman (born under the name "Bertha") became Catholic at the age of nine due to learning under the Franciscan Sisters of Perpetual Adoration. At fifteen, she became the only African American member of the religious community.

Sr. Bowman dedicated her life to building cross-cultural understanding in the Church. The following is from her address to the US Bishops in 1989:

"Today we're called to walk together in a new way toward that Land of Promise and to celebrate who we are and whose we aren't. If we, as a Church, walk together – don't let nobody separate you – that's one thing black folk can teach you – don't let folks divide you up – you know, put the lay folk over here and the clergy over here – put the bishops in one room and the clergy in the other room – put the women over here and the men over here – The Church teaches us that the Church is a family of families and the family got to stay together and we know, that if we do stay together and talk and work and play and stand together in Jesus' name – we'll be who we say we are – truly Catholic and we shall overcome – overcome the poverty – overcome the loneliness – overcome the alienation and build together a Holy city, a new Jerusalem, a city set apart where they'll know that we are here because we love one another."

A presentation on Sr. Bowman was given on July 7th. This can be found on the Archdiocese website with a Telegraph article. You can watch her full speech to the US Bishops here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uOV0nQkjuoA>
